HEAVIER FIRING OPENS.
SEVERAL SLAIN, REPORT.

The heaviest fighting of the three-day mine workers' war in Mingo county broke out at noon today. Fighting factions hidden in the West Virginia and Kentucky hills let loose repeated volleys. Blackberry City and Alburn, Gates, New Howard, Spriggs and Merrimac were subjected to hot fusillades.

Reports reached here during the morning that the striking mine-

The body of an unidentified victim was found today near Spriggs, on the Kentucky side of the river.

Butcher, believed killed at Merrimack, had only been wounded and managed to drag themselves clear of the fighting in the dark last night. The bodies of Dan Whitt, C. Smith, of Goslin, and other dead and wounded, were still lying on the ground in the battle zone shortly before noon. They could not be removed.

TOWN OF MATEWAN UNDER FIRE.

The town of Matewan is being fired on by the attacking forces of miners and sympathizers, according to word just received here at 11:30 a. m.

The same message said that Hatfield hit J. P. Smith, superintendent of the Stone Mountain Coal company over the head with a rifle butt and told Smith to "get out quick!" he valued his life.

firing this forenoon is heavier than at any time since the big battle opened. It is believed that an attempt is being made to prevent the concentration of state troopers and deputies.

This is the first time the attacking forces have used machine guns along the Tug river front. The battle opened Thursday morning when miners who have been fighting for several days, and the opening shot in the battle was not fired until there was a supply of ammunition on hand to last for a considerable period.

Attempts at peace late last night failed when both of the warring factions refused to stop their hail of bullets until the other side was silenced.

NON-COMBATANTS

FLIES BATTLE AREA. Throughout the night and into the morning hours, non-combatants from the battle zone along the Mingo-Pike county border have been trickling into Williamson in a thin stream.

Included in the number are many women, some of them with young babies at their breasts, while others are hobbling along with crutches, suffering from various ailments.

Don White, a miner, one of the six who was killed in yesterday's fighting, met his death while trying to get water for twenty or more women and children who had taken refuge in a cellar at the mouth of Sulphur creek and who were rescued later by state police.

The entire section east of Matewan was in danger last night, the high tension wires carrying current having been shot down. The Norfolk and Western railway has but one working line and all kinds of messages from this section are greatly delayed. The railroad pumping and the coal station at Vulcan cannot operate.

FIGHTING IS PHASE OF GREATER STRUGGLE.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 14.—The battle in the mountains of Mingo county, West Virginia, and Pike county, Kentucky, along the Tug river, which has raged for several days, fierce as has been, is merely a phase of a greater struggle in which this rich coal district is located—the industrial struggle over the question of unionizing or keeping "open" the mines.

Union mining "shoot-out-strike," as the leaders describe it, were evicted from homes owned by coal companies. They settled on nearby leased land in recent colonies. No longer able to trade the company commissaries at the various mining towns, they subsist on rations shipped in by the union.

Deprived of funds as a result of being out of work, they draw benefits from the union.

Propaganda is being circulated by both sides, each blaming the other for disorders.

Japan is endeavoring to impress the British with the necessity of renewing the old Anglo-Japanese alliance in a form which would cost the friendship of the United States, says Arthur Henderson, former member of the British war cabinet. The arrival of George Harvey, the new American ambassador in London, has created a favorable impression, Henderson says.

Apparently only a "noisy" minority of sympathizers with the deposed Hohenzollerns and other war lords of Germany have approved the course of the government in its maneuvers to avoid payment of the allied reparations demands, says Maximilian Harden in the TRIBUNE. There exists today, he says, a real distinction between the German people and the German government, more real, perhaps, than when President Wilson insisted upon it and by doing so helped drive Wilhelm from the throne.

French elation over the capitulation of Germany and the reparations question, says William Bird, cabling from Paris, is tempered by the fact that a series of "crises" is about to begin. There will be a "crisis" on each date when Germany is called upon to perform some act of her tremendous undertaking, he says.

"The Long, Long Shot," one of the best short stories of the year, from the pen of Royal Brown, revolving about a lively youth and girls who are anxious to capture him, will appear in the Sunday magazine.

George C. Henderson discusses "Prisoners on Parole," telling of Kid Thompson, the train robber who was in two great naval battles.

Joseph Daniels tell about "Our Mysterious Mr. S. Davidson," who was sent to Europe to prepare for the war with Germany before it began.

Gayley Honored by French Government

BERKELEY, May 14.—The highest honor which can be conferred by the French government, that of chevalier in the French Legion of Honor, has been bestowed upon Professor Charles Mills Gayley, head of the English department at the University of California.

News of the bestowing of the honor on the veteran Berkeley professor has reached here from Washington, where the ceremony of decoration was an event of last Saturday. Men prominent in government and diplomatic circles were guests at the ceremony. The honor was bestowed because of Professor Gayley's unusually active wartime record.

Professor Gayley has been delivering the annual Lowell lectures on poetry at Johns Hopkins University and at the conclusion of his talks will visit eastern institutions. Mrs. Gayley and Miss Betty Gayley left yesterday for Annapolis to visit relatives and will be joined by Professor Gayley for the summer months.

Skirts Will Be Longer, Says Designer

CHICAGO, May 14.—Lucille Ltd., one of the firms that has much to do in originating women styles, was asked today about spring and summer changes. Lucille wore a salt and pepper suit and smoked a cigar.

T. J. Duggan, alias Lucille Ltd., said: "The ridiculously narrow and atrociously short skirt is gone where the woodline twine and I sincerely hope it will not be revived until dear old Gabriel blows his trumpet."

"The sleeveless and extremely doctored evening gown is unfortunately but unquestionably popular, and one might venture to say that as evening gowns they are wonderful bathing suits."

"Nevertheless, there are some women who remain within the bounds of the dignified and still wear beautiful yet conservatively designed evening gowns."

"New evening gowns are eight inches from the floor. 'Walking or street skirts are ten inches from the sidewalk. 'The trend is downward. All new styles show longer skirts."

"But there will always be daring women who will exploit wild styles and exaggerate even the original design."

Girls—man has spoken; let the hens out of your skirts.

Political Victory for Sinn Fein Seen

PARIS, May 14.—Predictions that the Sinn Fein would win nearly half the 52 seats in the Northern Irish, or "Ulster" parliament, were made today by a representative of the Journal by Barry Egan, acting Lord Mayor of Cork, who is here.

Pointed to the 124 unopposed Sinn Fein nominations for the Southern Irish parliament, and expressed confidence that the Sinn Feins would do better in Northern Ireland than the unionists were willing to concede.

Egan denied statements that the Sinn Fein had opened negotiations with the British government.

Sabotage Renewed in British Mine Fields

By EARLE C. REEVES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 14.—The industrial warfare growing out of the coal strike continued in full swing today. From the Fifehire coal fields a renewal of sabotage was reported. Telephone wires have been cut and consequently details are lacking, but word was received that in one district 150 striking miners placed obstructions on the railway tracks, held up a train and made the entire crew prisoners.

At Blantyre the bottom of a mine pit was damaged when a box of gelignite, dropped into the shaft, exploded.

"Irish Republic a Failure" Says Gordon

"The Irish Republic is a failure, and only functions on American soil," says Lieutenant D. J. Gordon, Irish Protestant, author of "The Truth About Ireland," and editor of the "Crusader," California's new patriotic magazine. At a citizens' mass meeting in the Auditorium next Sunday afternoon at 8:30 he will outline arguments in opposition to the present movement for American recognition of the so-called Irish republic.

A. M. Phillips and Rev. Van Winkle, of Oakland, will speak on Americanism. There will be musical and patriotic selections by leading singers. Mr. McCarthy will lead the community singing.

A feature of the occasion will be an address by Mr. Goonsakara, distinguished ethnologist from India, his subject being "India's Debt to America." He is at present on a world tour at the request of American missionary leaders and is a very interesting and powerful speaker.

Conditions in India seem very good, he says, and he brands the present Sinn Fein agitation in America for freedom for India" as anti-British propaganda.

A large crowd is expected and the public is requested to come early to secure seats.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

Another automobile ferryboat will be added to the San Francisco bay service tonight, when the newly constructed "City of Richmond" of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry and Transportation Company leaves the ways of the Robertson shipyard in Alameda.

The launching will take place at 7 o'clock to take advantage of the tide, which reaches the high-water mark at that hour.

Immediately preceding it there will be an appropriate ceremony and Miss Helen Gill, the attractive daughter of Secretary H. T. Gill of the company, will christen the steamer with a bottle of California champagne.

The new steamer is considerably larger than the company's other boat, the Charles Van Damme, which has been on the run between Richmond and San Francisco in Marin county for the past six years, although it follows the older craft's general lines.

By use of both boats during the rush hours a big improvement in the service will be accomplished. It is the plan of the company not only to give more frequent service but to run later boats.

The carrying capacity of the Charles Van Damme is approximately 45 automobiles, while the new steamer, which is 200 feet long and 60 feet wide, will carry 65 each trip.

Elaborate plans for the launching have been made by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and city officials acting in conjunction with the officials of the company. The ceremony will start with a parade of automobiles from Richmond. In the cars will ride city officials and residents of Richmond and other guests.

It will form at 4:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce building and proceed through Oakland across the estuary to Grand Avenue in Alameda, and will be timed to arrive at the Robertson shipyard about 6 o'clock.

The ceremony at the shipyard has been arranged by E. J. Garand, secretary-manager of Richmond, and city councilman of Richmond, and city secretary-manager W. J. Wallace of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

It will open with an introductory address by Mayor James N. Long of Richmond, followed by a response by Charles Van Damme and a short talk by Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland on behalf of the Eastbay cities, following which Miss Gill will break the champagne over the steamer's bow and the big craft will be allowed to slide into the water.

An inspection and general reception will be held aboard the steamer out here and you can have all the flowers and berries and chickens you want.

Here you enjoy all the pleasures of country life, right close to your city job.

incorporated in its construction which provide splendid facilities for handling automobiles and added comfort for the passengers.

Included in the list of prominent persons who have been invited to inspect the launching are Percy E. Toomey of the California State Automobile Association, W. L. Hutchison of the Motor Car Dealers' Association of San Francisco, A. B. C. Dohrmann of the Automobile Trade Association, W. C. Jurens of the Hotel Oakland and Hotel Rafael, H. T. Hatfield of Vallejo, O. R. Rugg of Martinez, and Supervisor Zeb Knott of Contra Costa county.

The steamer City of Richmond shows a big advance in automobile ferry construction. By raising the pilot houses and installing the rest room, smoking and dining rooms on the upper deck the lower deck has been cleared in such a way as to provide for four lines of cars with four-foot aisles between each row.

Another improvement is the placing of the stairs in the center rather than the sides of the steamer, which allows the parking of automobiles from the outside decks to the paddle-wheel boxes when necessary.

This means that during rush hours six lines of cars will be taken care of for practically the entire inside length of the boat can be used and will often result in several machines getting aboard which under present conditions would be left for a later trip.

The women's rest room, men's lounging and smoking room, dining compartment, etc., have been designed and will be furnished, to provide the greatest of comfort for the passengers. The dining room is cleverly arranged with a horseshoe counter seating 24 and tables seating 26, which means that even under crowded conditions there will be no waiting to be served.

Another feature of the City of Richmond is its power plant, consisting of a 1000-horsepower steam engine, capable of propelling the boat along at splendid speed. The trial trip will be held about the 25th of the month and the steamer will go into service on the 26th in time to take care of the Decoration Day week-end crowd, which this year is expected to be especially large because of the installation of the giant searchlight on the summit of Mt. Tamalpais on that day, and when many motorists will probably cross the bay to see swung into position.

The two-boat service will continue on each Sunday and holiday and on each special occasion when the demand justifies it. The schedule will provide for a later service than is possible with the one steamer.

Japan Envoy Scores Stand On Shantung

By DUKE N. PARLY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, May 14.—A radical change in Japan's attitude toward China regarding Shantung was suggested today by Torikichi Obata, Japanese minister to China, who has returned to Tokyo from Peking, for conference with the foreign office.

Obata, who has been minister to China since 1918, following a study of Japan's trade loss in China and the growing dislike in China for all the Japanese, expressed his disagreement with the Japanese policy of waiting for China to open negotiations, in the following terms:

"The best method for a settlement of the Shantung question would be the presentation by Japan of a plan with the approval of the powers to China. The Chinese would welcome an attempt at a solution. Close friendship between China and Japan will be possible only following adoption of a definite policy by Japan toward China now entirely lacking."

Reports that Obata returned here because of forced resignation are unconfirmed.

LAMBERT CASE
IS SENT TO JURY;
DEFENSE PLEADS

Aged Woman's Attorneys Attack Husband in Their Closing Address.

Pleas by the defense attorneys for the liberty of a white-haired woman charged with shooting her husband when she found him with an alleged paramour, and by the prosecution that the defendant knew what she was doing when she fired the shot, marked the closing arguments in the trial of Mrs. Emily Lambert before Judge G. E. Samuels today. The case was given to the jurors about noon.

The opening argument was made by Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren. He was followed by Attorney John H. Tolan, for the defense, who stated that the testimony of an Alameda policeman was that Mrs. Lambert had told him she did not intend to shoot her husband, Thomas Lambert, but the woman who was with him, Mrs. Annie Louise Irwin, had declared Mrs. Lambert was temporarily insane when she fired the shot.

Attorney Albert C. Agnew made the closing argument for the defense. He made an attack on Lambert and Mrs. Irwin.

"Always," he declared, "Mrs. Lambert's first thought was for that husband, who is not fit for her to walk on. And has he denied in any way her testimony of his treatment of her? He has not. He did not have the nerve on the witness stand to deny for a moment that he had beaten her. He had said he would like to tear her heart out piece by piece, that he had said he would like to send her to an insane asylum."

"Was she not justified, when she went in search of her husband and his paramour in taking a revolver with her? If you were going on a similar errand and the man you sought refused to come, would you kill you and would you not be justified in arming yourself with a revolver in self-defense? I say you would."

Philippine Leaders Confer With Forbes

TARLAC TARLAC PROVINCE, P. I., May 14.—Former Pres. Wilson made little effort to grant self-government to the Philippines. It was declared here today by W. Cameron Forbes, former governor-general of the islands, and a member of the special mission sent here by President Harding to investigate conditions there, replying to a strong plea for independence made here in a speech, declared that although Democrats were in control of Congress for six years during the Wilson administration little action was taken to provide self-government for the island. Forbes declared the mission was not authorized to promise independence, but was simply here to investigate conditions and report to President Harding. The Forbes party was welcomed after the six-day trip from Manila and escorted by a large crowd to the provincial capital.

Before leaving northward, Forbes held private interviews with a number of residents. The party continued to Batavia, Pangasinan province, where it expected to remain for General Leonard Wood's party which leaving Manila at the same time as the Forbes party, held hearings today at Cabanatuan, Nue Ejica province.

Home Cannors Seek to Avoid "Middle Man"

SAN JOSE, May 14.—Representatives of the California Home Cannors' association, the latest organization to enter the fruit field in California, were today working through Santa Clara valley in an effort to arouse interest and favor for the association among the growers of the valley. Conferences were being conducted in many parts of the valley.

The California Home Cannors' association is claimed to be the "last word" in co-operative canning, the purpose of the organization being to eliminate the middlemen "body and soul." Fruits and vegetables, the association plans, will be canned on the premises and delivered straight to the retailer, the idea being one of the most novel yet tried out by the growers of this state.

C. J. Welch, president and manager of the new association, having offices in the Henshaw building, Oakland, is explaining the association and its scheme, representatives said today.

"The two most cogent arguments for forming the California Home Cannors' association from the producers' viewpoint are: First, the securing of a market for the surplus fruit and vegetables raised on the ranches and now going to waste; second, the dissemination of useful knowledge concerning the preservation of such farm and garden products. From the consumers' standpoint, it would inevitably mean cheaper canned food."

"Nearly every farm and garden in the state, however economically managed, has some surplus that goes to waste, because women and girls have no ready means of preserving it and no sure method of marketing it. For instance, after enough tomatoes, string beans, peas or fruit are canned for home consumption, the rest is allowed to decay on the ground and go to waste."

"Meat and poultry, appetizingly flavored, can be canned and sold, yielding good returns. By a proper and easy system of canning all that is necessary can be preserved for home use and the surplus sold. Girls, either singly or in clubs, can be taught thrift and can earn, during vacation time, more than mere pin money by saving waste and selling through a canning association direct to the consumer. One can sell among one's neighbors a limited amount, but an association must be resorted to for the economical and secure handling of large amounts."

MAJOR GRANT III GIVES CLOSING G. A. R. ADDRESS

Reads Address Delivered by Grandfather in Iowa in 1876.

STOCKTON, May 14.—With a reception to Major U. S. Grant III, grandson of their former commanding general, and installation of officers delegates to the fifty-fourth annual encampment of the department of California and Nevada, Grand Army of the Republic, closed their session here last night.

Following above the gray-haired veterans in the uniform in which he had won honors of his own account in France, Major Grant shook the hands of his grandfather's men as they crowded about him with misty eyes. Many of them, besides having known the general of the union army, also knew the young army officer's father, Colonel Fred Grant, in the Spanish-American war.

Accompanying department Commander Jurlingame to the stage, Major Grant was asked by the foreman of the assembly, "What are the initials?" as he hesitated in the introduction.

"U. S.," modestly replied young Grant, and the boys of '61-64 broke out in a loud cheer.

In his address to the veterans Major Grant said:

"I have many reasons for considering myself fortunate in being located in California at present," Major Grant commenced, "but nothing compares with the good fortune of being able to accept this invitation here today."

"I feel that right now we are in the aftermath of a great war, a period of great restlessness and nervous tension and that nothing would be more fitting than to read from a manuscript which came into my hands a few years ago. It is an address which your former commander delivered at the reunion of the army of the Tennessee at Des Moines, Iowa, in the centennial year, September 29, 1876."

He then read the address, during which there was a breathless silence among the veterans. Continuing, he said he felt that the sentiments embodied in that address held good at the present time.

WOMEN CLOSE SESSION.

The women of the Grand Army also closed their session with the election of the following officers: Department president, Anna R. Jarvis, Richmond; senior vice commander, Harriet C. French, San Francisco; junior vice commander, Nellie Masters, Los Angeles; treasurer, Edith J. French, Monterey.

The Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and Sons of the United States also closed their sessions after clearing up business before them and installing the officers elected Thursday.

The entire program closed with a ball given by Karl Ross Post, American Legion, at the auditorium, in honor of the veterans and delegates of the kindred organizations.

By a reduction of 20 cents a ton in the charges for transporting lime rock used in cement manufacture, the State Railroad Commission gave new impetus to the general trend in the downfall of transportation charges and prices of building material which have been elevated, the contractors and builders declare, because of the excessive freight charges. The rate was reduced from 90 cents to 70 cents a ton.

Cyril Sullivan, 19 years old, and his friend, William Lattin, aged 20, who live at the Evans hotel, 37 Broadway, engaged in a quarrel early today followed by fistfights in the neighborhood of the enclosure. It is alleged Lattin hit Sullivan's left ear. Sullivan was conveyed to the Harbor Emergency hospital, where the injured member was stitched and Lattin charged with mayhem.

Three hours after Joseph Sandow of 18 Osgood street had been strangled and robbed in Washington square, Sergeant of Police Culnan and Patrolmen Dooling and Mulcahy arrested Bartholomew Prelio, 410 Broadway, and Eltoni Bellia, 39 Kearny street, charging them with robbery. According to Sandow he was sitting in the park with his new acquaintances when he felt a hand in his pocket. He struggled, but the pair succeeded in taking $30 in currency from him. He positively identified the men arrested, although the money was not found in their possession.

In a despondent mood late last night Mrs. E. McKenney of 1425 Golden Gate avenue, turned on the gas in her home according to a report to the police today. Neighbors called Dr. J. T. Callanan of 2301 Twenty-second street. After treatment she was pronounced out of danger.

J. T. Matthews, Fairmont hotel, the victim of the theft, yesterday notified his car left outside Uncle Tom's Cabin on the boulevard in San Mateo county. Among the articles taken was a traveling bag containing jewelry and other property to the amount of $260.

John Farnham Dies After Short Illness

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—John Farnham, former sheriff of Alameda county and for many years public administrator for San Francisco, died late last night at his home in San Carlos, San Mateo county, after a short illness. He was 81.

Funeral services will be held from the family home Monday under the auspices of the Knights Templar. Burial will be conducted at the Crystal Ballis on North Beach and has otherwise been prominent in San Francisco.

"Boys, Girls or Livestock" Is Sunday Schools' Topic

RICHMOND, May 14.—The second day of the Contra Costa County Sunday School Convention was begun with devotional services this morning at 10 o'clock, and the meetings have continued throughout the day, with only a short recess at noon. Harold Post delivered the principal address of the morning with "Boys and Girls or Livestock" as his subject. His talk was preceded by Bible study and followed by a conference period. This afternoon's program consisted of a song service at 1 o'clock, followed by an address by Ernest S. Page on the topic, "Small Sunday School in Action." The business session of the convention was then held, after which George O. Butterfield spoke on Training Leadership.

The convention was begun last night with a meeting at the First Christian church, President Irvine, Gilbert of Walnut Creek presiding. H. F. Post, Charles R. Fisher, state Sunday school superintendent, and Aubrey Wilson, song leader, were prominent in the evening's session.

The stage is set for the American Legion dance to be held at the Shore park under the management of the Contra Costa Athletic Club, Shaw's orchestra, jazz dispensers of the classiest kind, is to furnish the music, and the committee of the club that is in charge of the event announced that the dance will be served all those who attend.

The money raised at the ticket office is to go towards the purchase of baseball suits for the team whose activities are the principal interest of the club just at present. A large number of the members of the Legion Auxiliary, as well as their many friends, plan to attend the dance and help to make it a marked success.

The Washington Parent-Teacher Association dance to be held at the school tonight for the benefit of the fund to purchase a school moving picture machine, is attracting much attention, and there is little doubt but that the pavilion will be crowded throughout the evening.

Last reports were to the effect that more than 300 tickets had been sold, and the committee in charge, headed by Mrs. S. B. Hicks, is expecting that many more will be purchased at the door. The tickets are being sold at 25 cents each, and a large number have been purchased by persons not intending to attend, but merely to aid the cause. The floor will therefore not be overcrowded, it is thought.

A Washington school orchestra to provide the music, and the women of the P. T. A. will serve punch throughout the evening.

A dancing party in honor of the seventeenth birthday of Marion Lee Windrem was held last night at the Pulse home, Tenth and Nevins avenues. The young people enjoyed a delightful program of dances to the special music that had been provided, and were merry until a late hour, supper having been served at midnight by Mrs. Lee Windrem, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Pulse and Mrs. N. G. Windrem.

Those present at the event were: Miss Lucie Parrott of Nancy, France, Mrs. Hester La Salle of Berkeley, the Misses Clarice Carey, Vivian Transue, Blair Adair, Virgil Fenner, Ruth Hanner, Marjory Donnerwith, Adelle and Lorraine Roos of Oakland.

The crowd overflowed the reception room of the house and additional tables were placed in the court back of the residence.

It is expected that the attendance at the dinner in Robie Hall tonight will exceed that of the luncheon, as over 25 alumni have made reservations for the event, which will be presided over by Charles K. Field of San Francisco.

Sight-seeing tours to the various points of interest on the campus under the direction of students have been arranged for the alumni this afternoon, to be followed by a swimming meet, baseball game and polo match.

A organ recital and Glee Club concert in the Stanford Memorial Church is set for 5 o'clock. Following the dinner a dance is to be held in the woman's clubhouse this evening.

Wife Flits as Spouse Works; Doesn't Explain

SAN JOSE, May 14.—L. D. Stewart of this city returned to his home here last night after a busy day's work. He had left his wife, Doretta Stewart, apparently in the happiest possible frame of mind when he departed for his work yesterday morning.

On the dining room table when he reached home last night was a note, in which Mrs. Stewart informed her husband that she had "gone for good."

"There is no use following me," said the letter, for you will never find me, but I will be all right."

Today Stewart is endeavoring to solve the mystery. He declares he has never quarreled with his wife and has had no trouble with her of any kind. What strange motive led her to leave her home and husband he is at a loss to explain.

He believes, however, that Doretta will come back.

GERMANY, RUSSIA SIGN PEACE AFTER YEARS OF DELAY

Transfer of Thousands of Men, Prisoners of War, to Follow Action.

By HARRY L. ROGERS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The much-discussed and long-delayed treaty between Soviet Russia and Germany has at last been signed, according to official information here today. The full text of the pact has not been made public, but the agreement reached is understood to cover both the exchange of prisoners of war and the resumption of trade relations, the two main subjects under negotiation.

More than 80,000 Russians who have been held in Germany as prisoners of war since the early days of the conflict and a considerably greater number of Germans detained in Russia are expected to be repatriated under the terms of the treaty.

TRADE CARRIED ON.
The new treaty does not go into detail as to the manner in which trade relations shall be resumed, it is understood, but lays down a few general principles and provides for an exchange of official agents whose duty it shall be to work out the complete machinery.

Though the understanding was reached less than a week ago, trade in considerable volume has been carried on between Russia and Germany for many months.

In addition to the ordinary commodities of life, it is known that a good deal of railway equipment has been purchased in Germany for Soviet account and it is also suspected that a considerable quantity of German munitions of war may have found its way into Lenin's dominions.

To date there has not even been an acknowledgment from Moscow authorities of Secretary Hughes' communication on the question of trade with the United States.

PRICES REDUCED.
Reports received here indicate that neither the original petition of the Bolsheviks nor the American reply has been made public in the official Soviet organs at Moscow and Petrograd.

Information from Riga, Helmsburg and Revel reflects an improved condition in Soviet Russia generally, and especially in Moscow and Petrograd.

The immediate effect of the order restoring free trade and abolishing the rationing system was to cause prices to rise from 300 to 600 per cent, it is stated, but after the first wild upturn, prices began to drop and have now been reduced to about half the former rate.

JOLSON TO SPEAK AT BOOST LUNCHEON

At Jolson comedian, will make his Oakland debut as a "booster" speaker at the luncheon of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce next Monday.

He will be the "curtain raiser" to Dr. B. M. Rastall, industrial engineer, who will talk in Oakland's industrial possibilities. Jolson's speech will be "Why I Am Always 35". This topic has been selected because Jolson says he refuses to get into the "granddaddy" class.

Announcement of the program for the luncheon was made today at a meeting of the members' council, under whose auspices the luncheon will be held. The council met at luncheon in the Hotel Oakland and its members were introduced to Blanks Everett, the new membership secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Cal Ewing, chairman, presided.

Reservations coming in for Monday's luncheon, which will be held in the lobby of the Hotel Oakland, indicate great interest in Dr. Rastall's appearance. His recently published survey of San Francisco has caused wide discussion all across the bay, and is expected that he will create the greatest interest to other sections. Dr. Rastall's attitude is thus expressed in his report:

"San Francisco, properly speaking, is the San Francisco Bay district, and not the area of the incorporated city of San Francisco. The bay district is a business and social unit. What helps one part helps all. Sound structure, good living conditions and vigorous industrial development must come to the whole bay region."

Merchants to Hear Alternative Debate

Following its usual custom of hearing both sides of any proposal before committing the organization, the Merchants' Exchange postponed action on a committee report dealing with city and county consolidation, and particularly the alternative which means county division, until the facts could be placed before the organization, and on Tuesday evening Joseph R. Knowland will point out the danger to Oakland's business interests of dividing the county and antagonizing adjoining communities which contribute to Oakland's commercial growth. E. A. Vanderventer will urge the adoption of the alternative proposition.

SHIP UNION CHIEF RAPS CUT IN PAY

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The action of the Shipping Board and the ship-owners in making a 15 per cent wage reduction was not for the purpose of saving, Andrew Furuseth, president of the seamen's union, said in a letter to Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board.

Furuseth's figures intended to show that the daily saving of each ship was but slightly more than a cent on each dollar expended in operation, and that an increased experienced fireman would burn more than that sum in excess coal in one week of four hours.

"The 15 per cent wage cut for the personnel needs some explanation," the letter said. "From the best authority the wage cost of operation of vessels is 75 per cent of the total cost, all other costs being 25 per cent. Of the 75 per cent, 12.5 per cent, in other words the reduction in the wage cost is one and a fraction cents on the dollar."

Furuseth reiterated the charge that the wages and conditions to be offered to the seamen had been determined by the Shipping Board and ship-owners prior to April 1, and that in spite of requests by the union representatives no hearing was granted them until April 14, eleven days before the wage agreement expired.

RICCARDI PLANS LECTURE TRIP AS HE QUITS PRISON

Attorney Tells the Press That Judges Could Benefit by Jail Experience.

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, May 14.—Vincent Riccardi, San Francisco attorney, whose sentence for embezzlement was commuted by Governor Stephens yesterday, sat in the prison yard today and told newspapermen of his plans for the future.

These plans include: A lecture tour on which he will discuss "My Ten Weeks in Prison." A movement for the reform of courts and prisons.

Riccardi was to have left the penitentiary at 10 a. m. but relatives who were to meet him failed to reach the prison at that time and he put in most of the morning smoking a pipe and chatting with newspapermen. He was neatly dressed in business clothes and wore two prison "dames" in his button-hole.

"I wouldn't trade my experience for $100,000," Riccardi declared. "My only regret is that I was not sent to 'hole' for solitary confinement so I could have seen all sides of prison life."

Riccardi declared every judge and attorney, before he made his way out of the prison, should have a prison experience.

"It would help fit them to render justice," he declared.

Concessionist Bars Giant At Moose Fete

John Aason, the Norwegian boy giant with the Moose Spring Festival at Forty-fifth street and San Pablo avenue, for the first time today was regarded as a concessionist.

The giant is 20 years old, weighs 363 pounds and is eight feet, nine and three-quarter inches in height. He sent for the manager of the festival and made a request that he be permitted to ride "Over the Falls" which is one of the sensational rides at the festival.

The manager thought for a moment and then said: "Johan, if you put your five hundred pounds through that machine there will be no machine and I will have a giant."

"Guess that's right," said Johan, resigning himself to his fate. "Even being big has its handicaps."

The Moose carnival, presented by the Western Shows, closes Sunday night. A grand roundup of the Oakland herd of Moose will be held tomorrow afternoon at the carnival.

New Switching Rates Are Declared Gain to Eastbay

Great satisfaction was expressed at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today over the decision of the State Railroad Commission on inter-district switching rates, handed down yesterday.

It is considered to be the most important decision rendered in years, affecting the industrial future of the Oakland industrial district, according to the traffic bureau.

VICTORY FOR EASTBAY.
"This is a great victory for Oakland," said L. B. Bishop, traffic manager, "but a still bigger one for Berkeley and Alameda. It is my prediction that the effects will be felt immediately in so stabilizing rates as to attract more factories to the mainland."

Bishop went on to explain that the Railroad Commission had established a seven-mile zone in which a rate of 37½ cents a hundredweight would apply, and that this zone covered practically all of the industrial sections of the continental side of the bay.

This zone starts from Oakland Pier and extends to Fifth Avenue in Oakland, the entire line in Alameda and includes the whole of Alameda.

The new rates are expected to be of much importance in influencing water shipments from this district to other parts of California.

SEVEN-MILE ZONE.
Beyond the confines of the seven-mile zone, a rate of 50 cents a hundredweight has been allowed by the commission.

The Southern Pacific asked the commission to permit to put in a rate of 60 cents in the seven-mile zone and a rate of 70 cents beyond that limit. The commission held that the rate should remain at the war-time figure of 37½ cents.

The decision is the result of arguments pending before the commission since September 19 1917, when the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce filed a complaint charging that the city was discriminated against in favor of Oakland. Hearings were held in June, 1918, but the war-time control of the railroad intervened and the case was dismissed. It was re-opened on March 27, 1920, and a hearing was held on August 5, following.

Bishop and Bahler, traffic managers for the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, intervened in behalf of the shippers of the mainland cities.

Cry on Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World!

whether the husband works harder than the wife. Things do seem rather unevenly distributed at times. But here's one of the fairest letters on the general situation that has come in.

My dear Geraldine:

All ready for the fight, Jerry. But it's not you, it's "A Protest Against the Double Standard" publication in this evening's TRIBUNE. I agree with her letter most heartily with the exception of the finis—well, let's say I'm tolerant up to a certain point and then I'm boiling the rest of the way.

Why should a woman begrudge a man because he has his Saturday afternoons and Sundays off with two weeks' vacation each year? Golly, Jerry, I'm tickled to death to have my husband home, let alone—he sure earns it. If his boss thinks he is entitled to his vacation why not the wife? Doesn't that man face the world and take its insults, doesn't he give up chances for the sake of his own because he can't afford to, yet would give anything in the world to? Hubby is no machine, but neither is the wife. I'm a wife and a mother, I understand myself in comparison to the average man's job.

The writer of this letter I am criticizing spoke of a woman

I'm bringing home the bacon while they're not. They may raise ructions, but they do not merit deep consideration.

Nor am I greatly mowed by flatterers. Flattery gorges pleasantly

Look out when they pass you by!

A cartoon illustration showing a woman from behind, wearing a dark dress and white shoes, walking away. She is looking back over her right shoulder towards the left. A speech bubble above her head says "Look out when they pass you by!". To her left, there are several curved motion lines indicating something or someone moving quickly past her.

while it's going down but it has no deep significance. Usually folks flatter because it's the popular thing to do, or because they want something, or because they like to work their jaws.

overburdened.

I want you to just write me up to the best of your ability. I want you to tell me what I ought to do with myself to make myself behave. I started life as a left-handed kid. They taught me to use my right hand to write, sew, and do most things, but always I did them awkwardly.

(But I can do all these things well now. I'm forty-six years old, so it's about time.) But always as a child and growing girl they said to me, "Give it here, you can't do that." And it's had a psychological effect on me.

Then trouble came into our lives, and at fifteen I became the constant companion of my dear Mother, and she lived and taught me a doctrine of self-denial. She died as she had lived. Her death was a tragedy. She died of cancer in 1908. I nursed her through it.

I've lived my life according to that doctrine until three years ago, when I went down to death's door. It taught me a new doctrine. It taught me that I'm not a failure. Jerry, in all these years I read and tried, and I've built up a brain that knows; what good is it to anyone? I depreciate everything, undertake, and make enthusiasm wane, and I fail flat, and I produce no action in my life, and am not much good to Sometimes able to earn as much as a snorer or over a flatterer. This is true certainly, but I'm afraid I can't see that it has anything to do with her case, unless she is begrudging hubby for not earning more than he is, or begrudging the poor little fellow for having to starve home and care for it. If I've missed the point, Jerry, pardon my stupidity or denseness, either word you care to use. Perhaps, I have misunderstood, but I haven't missed the point, believe me. A lady in question sure needs to buckle down to her job more of wife and mother.

All right, so far so good—still continuing the story I'll admit the wife and mother is no joke, but neither is a man's. I'll also admit that a common sense single standard can be practiced in the home provided a wife does not let her job over on a man so much.

This is a single standard which worked in our home very successfully and perhaps can be of help to the writer. I am criticizing. There are times when a tickle at night has exhausted me for lack of sleep and I really need help. My husband has then come

So neither sneerers or flatterers alter my gait as I saunter along on my job. But there is one person that does make me put on a burst of speed—and that's the chap who treats me with utter indifference and passes me with his nose to the trail. That chap is going somewhere, and if I don't hustle he'll get there a long time before I will. Also, the chap who is without intercession, he must have intercessions of his own which seem more worth while to him than mine. Perhaps he is after bigger game than I am. Perhaps some day he will possess the ears of God. I will be rated merely as an also-ran. Perhaps I am overlooking a bet—

Such are the feelings that rise in my heart when folk survey my lil' ole work with indifference. Is it so with you, Brother? It's a healthy one, I feel. Don't get mad at the Sneerer. Don't get mad at the Flatterer. But—step on the gas, old fellow, when they pass you without a glance.

A boy is taught to regard work as a natural fate and unavoidable duty and to accept the weariness thereof anyone, not even myself. I know what I'm qualified to do, but I can't succeed. Roast me, Jerry, I need it.

Your friend,
E. C. S.

What Is Success?

Pal, I wonder if you realize how many, many of us start life as "left handed kids". We may not be actually left-handed, but we get a left handed streak in our brains, and before we know it we are "left handed". We speedily find we really CAN'T I suspect that your trouble comes from two things. You got the wrong slant to begin with and YOUR "WRONG MOTIVE POWER" is the WRONG MOTIVE POWER. You are making the MISTAKE OF THINKING THAT BECAUSE YOUR ENTHUSIASM HAS STOPPED THE WORK MUST STOP.

Now, I don't know if you are "human failures" make, which most of us are. But I think that they are the successful chaps and think that they too would have been successful if that deadly weariness hadn't come over them. BUT THEY DEAD ENDED. WHY? BECAUSE THEY WERE THE SUCCESSFUL CHAP, TOO. He doesn't succeed because he continforward and cared for the dog. I was a little better off, got enough rest to relieve him and continue my job. Even then I am still ahead of the game, as I can rest the following day when the dog has had his rest. Can my husband? No, he works.

I call that a single standard with my husband getting the worst of the bargain. How about it, Jerry? All right, Jerry, I did not find the steam is given a little leeway. I am down to normal again with this question: Hasn't a husband an unpleasant side to his job the same as a wife?

AL UPHOLDER OF THE "SINGLE STANDARD"

About a Man's Work

I think he has, Pal. I have been trying to study out this dissatisfaction over the work problem which seems so general among wives, and it seems to me it may be laid to two causes.

First, a great ignorance concerning the true nature of a man's work. The wife is apt to think that a man works eight hours—and then comes home and that's all there is to it. She does not realize the QUALITY of the work during those eight hours—the continuous strain, the competition, the responsibility. She feels keenly the monotony, nervous irritation and manual labor involved in her own work, and she resents the fact that her rest hours are not as regular as her husband's nor, during her children's younger life, can her vacations be as assured. She does not always realize that he has the same monotony and irritation with an added responsibility that will quickly put him out of the running unless he keeps himself fit.

The second reason for the dissatisfaction lies I think in a false training which girls receive from their parents and also from their lovers during the courting period. With a certain amount of philosophy, I can understand how a girl is taught that "her husband will take care of her." This "taking care" is supposed to free her from the burdens of manual labor. If it doesn't she is a miserably unfortunate. She may "knuckle down" and try to carry her share of the load bravely but, unless she is an exceptional woman, she's apt to think that she is performing something of a sacrifice in so doing, and to be rather sorry for herself. Not ALL women feel this way. There are an infinite number of fine wives who accept work philosophically and good naturedly. But there is a great mass who believe that work is an injustice.

The social attitude toward women working is still far more lax than toward men. Looking at the serious contempt for the masculine "bum" who litters our sidewalks. But how about the feminine "bum" who rises at 11 and spends the afternoon "window shopping" or at the "mince"? THE UNPRODUCTIVE WOMAN IS JUST AS CONTEMPTIBLE AND JUST AS MUCH A MENACE TO SOCIETY AS THE IDLE MAN. A woman has no more right to expect a husband to support her in complete or partial idleness than a man has a right to expect his wife to do so.

I will go on further. The woman who thinks she "deserves her keep" when she permits her husband to make a toy of her, the woman who accepts support merely in return for her participation in the marriage. THAT WOMAN HAS SOLD HER SPIRITUAL BIRTH-RIGHT OF STRENGTH AND DE-CENCY AND SHE IS NO BETTER THAN A FROWLER OF THE STREETS

See the Right

Dear Geraldine—I hardly know how to express myself as I want to try and thank you for the biggest thing one person can give another, that is, confidence in mankind.

You see, Jerry, all I knew about sex was what a girl told me. She didn't know much more about the truth than I did. For all I heard was a lot of messiness. Of course I was a little more than a little bit nine times out of twelve it is the woman that brings out the ape. Don't you like this sentence by Ruskin?

"...all things throughout the world, the man who looks for the crooked will see the crooked, and the man who looks for the straight will see the straight."

Look for the gorilla and you'll find him and since you're looked so eagerly for him he has a right to be true to his instincts.

So then, dear Jerry, you've got me on the side of looking for a man—a man who God made in His own image. And, Jerry, some place in the world he is waiting for me.

There, Jerry, you've said it, and I do hope you can think me too silly for a girl of

Writing for a Living

Dear Jerry—This is 'half fun and whole earnest:

Is there really money in it. Writing verse or lowly prose? Someone told me he believed so. I don't know. I don't know. I have wasted reams of paper. Trying fiction, or a verse. Not a word of sense better. Every line they get some worse. But I've got to keep an eye.

ALCOHOL SALES GROW; KRAMER INFORMS HOUSE

Problem Becoming Serious for Prohibition Officers, He Claims.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A serious problem confronts Federal prohibition enforcement officials in the prevention of sales of alcohol, ostensibly for medicinal and industrial purposes, which later are diverted into illicit channels. Prohibition Commissioner Kramer told the House Judiciary Committee.

The commissioner, appearing at the committee's request, to discuss the new Volstead anti-beer bill, declared that Federal agents had established something like good control over the illegal whiskey traffic, but that the new task was rapidly developing into one of magnitude.

RULING OPENS STABLE DOOR.
Kramer said the law which Volstead has proposed to supplement his first dry code "opens to the source of the evils, and makes positive and definite the powers of Federal officials in enforcement work."

The ruling of former Attorney-General Palmer permitting prescription of beer as a medicine had upset the bureau's policy with respect to beer, Kramer said, adding that the ruling had "opened the stable door for somebody to steal the horse."

Kramer proposed legislation which would cut off imports and manufacturing of whiskey entirely for a time so that consumption would catch up with production. He urged that exports to Canada and Mexico should be stopped, for "all that goes over the border line finds its way back in some form or other."

HOME BREW DECLINES.
Questioned on home brew, Kramer laughingly said that the novelty had begun to wear off and that the number of home brewers was gradually diminishing.

"The committee also heard several experts from the prohibition bureau discuss technical sections of the bill."
Dr. James M. H. Rowland, professor at the University of Maryland, testified he had never prescribed beer and had never seen it used as a medicine.
Representative Chandler, Republican, of New York, asked whether beer was not responsible for the "magnificent stature" and long life of the German people, who drink beer all of their lives.
"I do not know anything concerning the longevity of the race," Dr. Rowland said. "I am an obstetrician and work at the front end of life. I do know that beer or any fluid containing alcohol is bad for babies."

Poet on Visit To Childhood Oregon Home

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—Edwin Markham, the poet, reached Portland yesterday for his first visit since he sailed away from this city in 1857. At a meeting of Oregon authors he was elected poet laureate of Oregon, his native state.

Speaking of his boyhood days at Oregon City, Markham said: "My most vivid and most pleasant memory is of a little girl, Maggie Kilburn, who lived in the little yellow house just below my mother's store. Most of my playing hours used to be spent with Maggie looking for shells along the river bank. She was a sweet little girl and was my first inspiration." Markham expressed a wish to locate Maggie and his friends here are trying to find some trace of her.

He spoke of his mother, who was a storekeeper and leading poet of Oregon during the most of the years he lived on the banks of the Willamette as a boy.

"I remember one time a steamboat, called the Lot Whitcomb, got stuck on a sandbar while on a trip up to Oregon City," the poet said. "This caused a great deal of excitement in our little village, but after a while the boat got off the bar and started chugging up the river."

"My mother was counting eggs in the store when the editor of the old Oregon Spectator, the first newspaper west of the Rockies, came running in, his shirt sleeves rolled up to his elbows and his brow covered with dampness. He gave every appearance of a man in a hurry."

"Mrs. Markham, I want you to write a poem about the Lot Whitcomb getting off the sandbar," yelled the editor, and "I'll wait right here while you fix it."

"My mother dropped what work she was doing and took a pencil and paper, waited only a moment until the muses caught up with her, and then she wrote the poem. It began something like this: 'Lot Whitcomb is coming. Her banners are flying. She steams up the river with pride.'"

MEXICAN REBEL INJURED.
MEXICO CITY, May 14.—General Francisco Murguía, rebel leader, was severely injured in a recent clash with federal troops near Mier, state of Tamaulipas, according to War Office reports. He is now recuperating on the American side near Las Vacas.

Three Bay Residents Leave for Far East

Among the passengers who left aboard the China Mail liner Nanking—the first of the large passenger ships to leave this port since the beginning of the maritime strike—were Paul B. Kelly, a State University student; Mrs. Mabel G. McGuire and her five-year-old son Harold of Alameda, and Mrs. Imogene Sanderson, art connoisseur, of Berkeley. Kelly is booked to Yokohama. Mrs. McGuire and Mrs. Sanderson to Shanghai.

The Nanking sailed with full passenger cabins and freight holds affording a partial relief to traffic congestion. Her departure followed with the 24 hours of the signing of an agreement between the company and the strikers for continuance of existing wage schedules for the period of one year.

Bill Will Ask Probe of Policemen's Fees

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The police committee of the board of supervisors will be asked to make an investigation into the provisions of the city charter to determine if Captain Charles Goff of the Southern Police station has violated them by accepting witness fees from the Federal courts for his appearance in liquor prosecutions, in a resolution to be introduced Monday by Supervisor James E. Power.

Federal court records show several instances where Goff has accepted witness fees, it is said. On the other hand, sections of the charter state that salaried officers of the city shall accept no fees for services rendered in their official capacity and that all money received by them for whatever reason must be turned over to the city treasurer within twenty-four hours.

Governor Signs New Anti-Vice Statute

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—Senate bill No. 502 by Senator J. M. Laman, making it a felony for any person to live with, or to be supported by a prostitute and fixing a penalty of from one to ten years imprisonment for violators, was signed by Gov. W. D. Stephens.

Old bill providing that two or more persons charged with a public offense whether felony or misdemeanor may be tried jointly was also signed as was assembly bill No. 78, providing new penalties for the non-payment of delinquent taxes.

Come—Buy at Dollar Day Terms

Here's your chance to buy a lot in a beautiful residence tract, 'WITH ALL IMPROVEMENTS IN, where you will have every city and country advantage—at terms of $1 down and $1 a week. After Sunday, if there are any lots left, terms will be $20 down, $5 monthly. Be a bargain hunter. Join the crowds to Chevrolet Park and see for yourself what unusual values are offered you. In Berkeley the best homes have centered about the University campus. In this growing portion of Oakland the slightly property adjoining Mills College will always be the best home section. Chevrolet Park is of the same high quality as the Mills College grounds next door—has the same marine view, the same natural beauty, fine trees in and about it, and the same meadow larks to make life a joy. And note the low prices—

Fully improved Residence Lots, $250 to $550
A few choice Business Lots — $385 to $695

Up to and including Sunday—Terms $1 down, $1 weekly. No interest or taxes until July 1, 1922

Examine the above map. Study carefully the location of Chevrolet Park, its convenience to schools, S. P. and local transportation. You will see that it is also near an important and growing manufacturing district. That means a good investment, even if you should never build. This property is on the "Loop," the main S. P. line running direct from the Alameda Naval Base, which means that there will be a future demand for these homesites. Moderate building restrictions to promote the best class of building improvements also protect your investment. Don't take our word for it. See the property for yourself. Then decide.

Improvements In

Chevrolet Park is the best improved tract in California. Concrete streets, like the State Highway, are in. 4-inch and 6-inch cast iron water mains are installed throughout, and the sewer system is in. Poplar trees have been planted along the roadsides, and are now well along. Moderate building restrictions are encouraging to those wishing homes within the near future.

We know from our 24 years' experience that Chevrolet Park is the best value for the money ever offered in the Eastbay. See it today or tomorrow. Then tell us what you think.

Churches and church organizations have been asked by the Near East Relief to co-operate in the state-wide drive which is now being carried on for flour and flour to Constantino on June 6.

"Say it with flour" is the slogan which has been adopted for the drive. Flour will be used in the purchase of flour, which will be sold at cost to the committee by one of the large milling companies of California.

It is planned to have committees at work in each church and Sunday school in the state. Each committee will make an effort to raise funds necessary to purchase a cargo for the steamer "California" which will sail directly to Constantino from San Francisco on June 6. Five hundred tons of flour and one hundred tons of rice are California's quota in the new drive.

"Bundle Day." On this day, all persons having old or cast off clothes have been asked to wrap them in a bundle, attach a yellow tag, which will be distributed by the Boy Scouts, and give the bundle to a local laundryman, or carry it to a fire station. The laundry wagon drivers, and the firemen have both promised to cooperate with the workers in collecting the clothing.

Bible Play To Be Given By Church

"Onesimus," a Biblical play, interpreting the book of Philemon and designed especially for church members and those interested in the history and dramatic passages of the Bible is to be one of the features of an entertainment to be given on Friday evening, May 20, in the Oakland Auditorium for the joint benefit of the California Girls' Training Home and the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League.

The play has been staged twice recently by the Boulevard players; once in the First M. E. and once in Plymouth Congregational church. Rev. E. R. Dille, pastor emeritus of the First M. E. church, has endorsed it as follows:

"The portrayal of the characters was remarkable. Every detail of costume and setting, and every feature of the play was historically true, and the effect was profoundly impressive. The spiritual lesson was most forcibly brought out, and the treatment of the subject was of the highest quality. I wish every Sunday Bible class might have the benefit of this most illuminating and adequate interpretation."

Rev. Charles Kloss, pastor of Plymouth, was much pleased by the play.

Education Drive Nears Close Methodists Make Final Effort

According to local churchmen, the month of May is the strategic month for Methodists, for during this month all the agencies of the Southern Methodist church will be called upon to contribute their full share toward bringing to a successful close the Christian education movement, which has been prominently before the denomination for the past year.

Leaders state that whether the Christian education movement succeeds or fails will depend upon the faith, prayers, the close co-operation, the self-denying effort, the courage and the generosity of Methodist men and women during the remaining days of this month.

According to representative Methodists in this section, other denominations may have outlined educational programs which will result in larger amounts to be collected for schools and colleges; but they claim that the five-fold objectives of the Christian education movement of the Southern Methodist, including not only $35,000,000 for the improvement and endowment of ninety-one institutions of learning but a million-dollar fund for worthy students, the enlistment of young people to devote their lives to the ministry, missions and other forms of Christian service, the deepening of the moral and spiritual life of the church and the closer relation of the church to Christian education through the church schools, Sunday school and young people's societies, will have a marked effect upon the life of the church, the nation and the world.

Each Sunday during the month the pastors will bring special messages on the subject of Christian education to their congregations. Three-minute speakers will present the subject briefly at all Methodist gatherings; alumni organizations will take up the matter with all alumni and ex-students; and every man and woman in Southern Methodism will not only be fully informed, but will in every member canvass May 25-June 5, be urged to make a generous response. Subscriptions may be paid in five dollar installments. According to Methodist statisticians, there are 2,500,000 members of the Methodist Episcopal church South, and $3 a cent a day per member, would more than pay the $35,000,000 sought.

SAN JOSE STORY TO BE BASIS OF PASTOR'S THEME

Are women and girls more curious than men and boys? Was it curiosity that made the first woman fall? If women are more curious than men, why does such a state of mind exist, and what influence has it upon the development of character? Who first Presbyterian church, has definitely taken on the question, and will answer them in a sermon tomorrow evening on the theme, "The Woman Who is Curious." He will also consider the recent San Jose episode and from it will draw a tragic warning.

In connection with the evening sermon, a sacred concert will be given in which Mrs. Marta von Sturmer will sing a contralto solo, Sidney Maar, violinist, will play several sections, and Walter B. Kennedy, the organist, will render several numbers from the great composers.

Rev. Silsley's subject tomorrow morning will be "A Man Who Dreams." He will set forth the part that the dreamer plays in life, in the past and in the present.

OPERA STARTO SING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Lulu Root, formerly leading contralto of the Washington, D. C. opera company, who sang at the First Baptist church last Sunday night and again at the evening session of the Northern Baptist convention on Tuesday, is to sing at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. It is announced.

Miss Root returned recently from a concert tour in Scotland and is preparing to leave next week on a similar tour of the Pacific coast. She was formerly a member of the Tabernacle Baptist church, Ulen, N. Y., when Rev. John Snape was pastor.

Dr. Snape will preach tomorrow night on the subject "My Pleasures and I." Another sermon in the series of Sunday evening sermons will be given on "Myself and I," preceding the sermon Holmes Johnson will give a four-minute talk on stewardship.

At the morning service Dr. Snape's sermon topic will be "The Influence of Faith and Fear." The augmented chorus choir and quartet will render appropriate music.

ST. JOHN'S WILL OBSERVE FEAST OF PENTECOST

Commemorating the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the disciples, the Festival of Pentecost will be observed at St. John's Episcopal church, Eighth and Grove streets, tomorrow. There will be a solemn procession at the morning service, and Evensong Mass in E Flat will be sung by a chorus choir of selected voices under the direction of Mrs. H. E. Root. ## Portuguese To Celebrate Pentecost

The Festival of the Pentecost is one of the most significant days on the calendar of Portuguese and Portuguese Catholics.

According to tradition the inhabitants of the Azores were surprised a famine when the islands were still territories of Portugal, and the entire population gathered together and offered up a prayer to the Almighty, pleading Him that if He would send them food, they would observe the day forever as a day of thanksgiving.

The story goes that on Pentecost Day, four ships, bearing ample food for the starving population made the harbor of San Miguel. Since that time the Portuguese have observed the day with elaborate feasts and services of thanksgiving.

The Portuguese of the Eastbay celebrate the day with barbecues and festivals held at various centrally located places. In Catholic churches the day is one of unusual significance. At St. Joseph's Portuguese church, elaborate music will feature the observance of the event. Father Call, pastor of the church, is to give a special sermon in Portuguese in connection with the festival. The special program given by the choir under the direction of Z. S. Sousa. Kyrie by Marcho, Gloria by Marcho and Credo, Marcho Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei by Marcho. The Veni Creator by Marcho will be sung by the choir. One of the special features of the musical program is the Ave Maria, written by the late Father Candido Ribeiro, which will be sung at the offertory by Bertha Andre.

CURIOUS PUBLIC WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO SEE CARPENTIER TRAIN

Gymnasium Equipment Shipped From France
—Trainer Teaches Dog French.

By JAMES J. CORBETT,
Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.
(Written expressly for the International News Service)
(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service)

MANHASSET, L. I., May 14.—Georges Carpentier is going to feel very much at home when he settles down to training next week at Matthews Farm, on the edge of this pretty little residential town.

Gus Wilson, his faithful friend and trainer, has seen to that.

All of the paraphernalia that Georges used on the other side of the pond when training for Joe Beckett and other opponents has been shipped to this country and now is ready for the arrival of the French champion.

Wilson has everything—punching bags, sand bags, weight pulleys, rubbing tables, etc.—in place and Carpentier's quarters are as spick and span as could be.

What appeals to me most of all, however, is a surprise Wilson has in store for Georges. Before telling of it, I must explain that in Britain, Carpentier has a fine German-bred pointer dog of whose he is very fond. When Georges trains on his radio, this dog is always with him, though he never takes it out of the country.

Now—Jack, Curley, who is to be one of Carpentier's advisers in matters

Continuing to the coming fight with Dempsey, also, he said. Several weeks ago Curley was surprised when Wilson came to him and asked him to take this dog to the Matthews farm. He said that he and Wilson went away with the dog on the road.

Today, the faithful Wilson has taught Curley's dog to understand a few simple words in French, such as "wag" and "sit" in addressing it when on the road.

BOW WOW: BOW WOW:

"Curley," he said, "is a good Wilson, with a satisfied smile. He will feel much more at home and he will always take the dog on the road with him."

Wilson tells me also that Carpen-training will be absolutely private for Curley and for the private press of the press. His outdoor

The Seals beat but one more game to clinch their series with the Lake Bees, but you never can tell what will happen in the next three days. The Bees will have to win on the local lot tomorrow morning, and many fans who were unable to witness the game will be on hand for their first peek at the Utah boys. Fans will want to get a peek at the game between the Seals and the Coast League some years ago as an Angel. Also Bob Barry, the St. Louis pitcher, who is fighting and a new man with the Bees. The game will start at 10.30.

Denny Wile was so mad over the Rainers losing their first two runs in the eighth inning of the first game at Seattle, after catching a fly ball, he thought that the side was retired.

Bill Walsh, by the way, is the same old pitcher and catcher. Walsh and Jack O'Brien fought for Johnny White on Twenty-third street some years ago, has been completely gloved in the last few years and has no bleachers around this ring and there will be none.

Laies reports indicate that Carpenter will leave each New York before Monday afternoon. He will come directly to Maunassau, according to word, and start light work Tuesday or Wednesday.

Carpenter's routine in camp is very military. He rises at a certain hour every morning, and goes to work. He goes on the road at a certain hour and at the start will do from six to eight miles. Journeé, Jeanette and the other members of the team will work with the Frenchman. Wilson will go on the road with him every day and will also work with him in camp.

The right field fence, while two more Rainers crossed the plate.

Billy Lane failed to steal any sacks off the Oakland catcher yesterday, but he was just as much satisfied by hitting a homer and a single.

When Maury Rath goes to bat for the Seals, the other Seals are posing club move in almost to the edge of the grass. It is just like the Seals try to bat the ball through the infield. In the third inning yesterday Paul Strand was but a few feet from home base when he grabbed a pop off Rath's bat.

Archie Yellie hit a funny two-bagger. The ball was in the ground as it passed through short and ran over right past Wilhoit and Strand to the bleacher fence.

Byrd Lynn is not all to blame for the cap.

Guests Attend Afternoon Ceremony

Pink and lavender rhododendrons, quantities of pale pink roses and potted plants adorned the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McVicar Mills of Russell street, Berkeley, today, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marion Mills, and Frederick Lewis Shanks. The service was read at 2 o'clock before a number of relatives and intimate friends assembled, with the sun room the setting for the nuptials. Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkins, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church in Berkeley, read the ritual. A bower of the delicate, tinted bloom was erected at one end of the room, beneath which the nuptial vows were exchanged.

Attendant upon the bride were her two cousins, Joan Virginia and Frances Moulton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moulton of Ukiah, who came down to be flower maidens at the wedding, each frocked in a dainty bouffant gown and carrying baskets of flowers.

Mrs. James McVicar Mills Jr. was matron of honor and standing in apple green. Her bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Mills, was maid of honor for her sister and wore lavender organdie and georgette. Both wore picture hats of fancy woven straw to harmonize with their gowns and shower bouquets.

The bride presented a lovely picture in a gown of French organdie, delicately embroidered. A bridal veil of sheer tulle completing the costume and held at the coiffure with orange blossoms. Lilies of the valley and gardenias were carried in the shower bouquet.

The wedding was distinctive as a summer ceremony, the appointments in keeping with the season. James McVicar Mills Jr. was best man.

The future home of Mr. Shanks and his bride will be in Hamilton City where the former is representative of a large orchard concern. The bridegroom is a graduate of the State University with the class of '18 and a Theta Delta Chi fraternity man.

The bride received her degree this month from the University of California and is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Woman's fraternity. Mrs. Paul Delano Cadman (Ethel Mills) is another sister.

The wedding of Miss Margaret B. Proudfoot, daughter of Mrs. William Proudfoot, and James Donald Guthrie of San Rafael took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Proudfoot of Longridge road in this city recently. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomson of the Presbyterian church of San Rafael. The bride is a member of a prominent Oakland family and a niece of Captain Robert Dollar of San Francisco.

The groom is a son of a well known Marin county family. After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie will make their home temporarily with the bride's mother.

At a tea given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. F. Urquhart in North Berkeley, the betrothal of the hostess' daughter, Miss Florence Urquhart, and Edward Toepke, was announced. Close friends were guests. The bride-elect is one of the popular young women of the Eastbay and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. ## Cook Book Is Issued by Mothers' Clubs

By EDNA R. KINARD.

When "Mother" pronounces a dish good, good it is. Now here comes the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs with a cook book, crammed full of recipes standing the test of time, economy and desirability to say nothing of wholesomeness, and pronounces them all good. It is the mothers of the city themselves who have contributed the 239—or more—ways of transforming food into poetry. They have taken from their treasure chest, the choicest of their dishes; revealed for the first time the secret of their tables; shared with their sisterhood the mystery of their popularity. Only the "favorite" recipes which have made cooks famous have gone into the pages of the ambitious volume which next week will be circulated among the 41 associations of the city. The book will be a feature of the Oakland exhibition at the State Congress of Mothers in this city later in the month.

To Mrs. S. F. Emery, chairman of the home department, is due the credit for collecting, compiling and editing the interesting volume whose advent is being carefully watched by the 2000 club members. Every recipe bears the name of its contributor. Her reputation will stand or fall in the test by her fellow women. Tuesday will mark the debut of the collection of recipes, the annual meeting taking the form of a picnic luncheon at the Municipal clubhouse.

Mrs. R. G. Goebels, Mrs. A. Feno, Mrs. L. K. Beever, Mrs. F. Hambleton, Mrs. Hattie Campbell are arranging the informal at fresco affair of next week.

A record of 200 new members in three weeks, bringing the total of paid up members to 2030, has been completed by Oakland federation.

The proposed program for the development of San Francisco will be reviewed on Monday night, by Dr. B. M. Bassall before the National League for Women's Service. The address is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Lounge Room of the clubrooms, 333 Kearney street, and will follow the weekly dinner.

Three important groups of women were in session today, writing a successful finale to the season's work. The board of directors of the California Federation of Women's Clubs met in the Twentieth Century clubhouse, Aaron Schloss, president, presiding.

The Women's Legislative Council of California as represented in the officers from the north, together with committee chairman and delegates, met today at the St. Francis to consider questions immediately confronting the organization.

Members of the retiring board of Alameda district, C. F. W. C. greeted members of the incoming board at an elaborately appointed luncheon today at Hotel Oakland, the occasion marking the last executive session presided over by Mrs. Claude Leech. Mrs. George A. Riggs succeeds Mrs. Leech as president. Each retiring officer introduced her successor in a happy toast. Mrs. H. Mitchell arranged the occasion.

Mrs. SELCHERT'S DAUGHTER
Was Restored to Health by
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Horizon, Wis.—"My young daughter had been troubled for several months with backache and a bad feeling in her stomach. She did not want to eat anything, while before she was so hungry she could hardly wait for her meals. The doctors gave her medicine but it did not help her. One day I was reading a little book of yours and it reminded me that when I was a young girl I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So she went to the drug store and got a bottle, and after taking the second one she could eat and has not had backache since. In all she took six bottles of it. She goes to school and on Saturdays helps with the housework. She is a normal, healthy girl now and we recommend your medicine. You have my permission to publish this letter as a testimonial for the Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. FRANK SELCHERT, 150 Larches St., Horizon Wisconsin.

Mothers all over the country have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be a most reliable remedy for such conditions.

Where Homes are building fastest MAXWELL PARK

Long recognized as East Oakland's finest scenic home section, Maxwell Park has needed only the completion of development work to bring to it the greatest building activity seen in Oakland in years.

For the installation of water and gas mains and the laying of broad, sweeping streets which follow the rolling contour of the land has made Maxwell Park truly the home-park ideal. Location in the center of a beautifully built-up district; situation close-in to the heart of the city; accessibility of local and transbay transportation; nearness to schools of grammar, high school and college grades; beauty within the tract itself, which is on rolling, wooded ground in East Oakland's "warm-belt" and unsurpassed outlook, sweeping over the whole bay region—these are the advantages which were made available to home-seekers with the opening of the tract. Their immediate response and the popularity of the park is demonstrated by the great home-building boom in progress now.

VISIT MAXWELL PARK TOMORROW

Scenic Beauty in Maxwell Park

On rolling, tree-covered ground, Maxwell Park possesses a natural beauty that is much sought after, but seldom found, in close-in residence property.

Maxwell Park Well Developed

Landscape engineers planned the streets in Maxwell Park, laying them out to conform with contour of the land. They are wide and well-paved. Curb and gutters are in, and five-foot cement sidewalks will be laid.

SLUGGING A CITY.

As a characteristic example of the conduct of those few public agitators who would, under the cloak of an alleged movement to bring about city and county consolidation, divide Alameda county into three major portions have for the past several weeks been committing unjustified verbal assault and uttering calumnies against the city and the people of Piedmont. By a queer perversion of morals and reasoning, these clamorous individuals have thought the proper way to effect closer harmony and cooperation to be to adopt methods of abuse, false representations and bullying.

In a letter to the board of freeholders elected to draft a charter of joint city and county government, Mayor Oliver Ellsworth of Piedmont and Mr. Charles H. Bradley, president of the Piedmont Civic Association, have pointed out that these methods have failed. This is not surprising. Such methods never have any prospect of success.

Mayor Ellsworth's letter is in good temper. With reference to the rather oilless mouthings about Piedmont's use of an Oakland sewer, he states, from the record, that Piedmont has three times offered to build its own sewer system in conjunction with Oakland, and now for the first time Oakland seems to be ready to act. He tells the freeholders committee that Piedmont is opposed to the submission of the proposition in the alternative, gives the ample reasons for its stand, and then concludes as follows:

"The false and defamatory newspaper articles that have been published and are still appearing have produced an opposition to the movement, at least in Piedmont, which did not exist before."

"In conclusion permit me to express the confidence of my community in the character and ability of the members of the Board of Freeholders. Whatever may be the result, the whole country will owe a debt of gratitude to these ladies and gentlemen for their services in a most difficult and delicate undertaking."

As with Piedmont, so with other cities. Before there can be the smallest chance of consolidation there must be first a spirit of cooperation among the cities and a showing of the benefits of the proposed change. Self-respecting cities cannot be clubbed and kicked into any agreement. Piedmont, Emeryville, San Leandro and other small cities may be helpless under a given condition, but they are self-respecting. Berkeley and Alameda are not helpless and are also self-respecting.

If any improvement in the existing relations among the East Bay cities is to take place there must be a movement from the authorized, respected and good tempered representatives of the several cities. Those individuals who indulge falsehood, calumny, and bullying cannot contribute to the public good, from the very nature of things, and no movement in which such individuals meddle is apt to prosper.

MILLS COLLEGE.

Mills College, the famous institution in Oakland for the higher education of young women, yesterday conferred degrees upon its graduating class of 1921. It was the largest class ever graduated from Mills and it leaves its alma mater under conditions more promising for future growth and usefulness than ever known before.

The graduation exercises of the present week should have served to give the people of Oakland a better understanding of the importance of Mills College to their city. This is the largest college for women west of the Mississippi River and it ranks with the best colleges in the country. Expansion has been rapid during the last few years and before long 500 students will be enrolled. This is the number which it is designed to fix as the limit of attendance. As soon as adequate housing accommodations can be provided that limit will be attained.

Recently the Rockefeller Foundation appropriated, upon certain conditions, from its educational fund $350,000 for the benefit of Mills College. This donation is contingent upon the remainder of a million dollar endowment fund ($650,000) being raised by the college. About $215,000 of the latter amount already has been raised, which leaves $435,000 yet to be secured. The whole of the fund must be pledged by July, 1923, and be paid by January, 1926, in order to qualify for the Rockefeller allotment.

These conditions seem easy—at least they should not be difficult to meet. But it is highly important that they be not forgotten or held lightly. The endowment fund will go very far toward securing Mills against financial troubles in the future and to guarantee that it will always perform efficiently the important educational mission assigned to it. Mills is not only an Oakland institution; it belongs to the West and is proving worthy of the traditions, the courage and the vision of the West.

NOW A MESS IN POLAND.

Premier David Lloyd George of Great Britain, speaking yesterday in the House of Commons, used harsh words regarding Poland's action in permitting large military units to forcibly enter and seize large districts in Upper Silesia, in territory included in the plebiscite area. The British premier is quoted in the cables as charging Poland with repudiation of the Allies and with unwarrantably taking measures into her own hands. He fears that the peace of Europe is again threatened and is understood to imply that he would offer no objection should Germany send armed forces to battle with the Poles.

The action of Albert Korfanty, the Polish commissioner for Upper Silesia, is reprehensible, especially as it has involved attacks upon French and Italian military guards in the Plebiscite area. Allied rules and orders have been ignored. Korfanty has played the role of a filibuster in the same fashion that D'Annunzio played it at Fiume. The ubiquitous poet finally was forced out of Fiume and Yugoslav rights were recognized. Will a similar happen to the Poles in Upper Silesia?

It is impossible, from the information available, to say whether Korfanty had the formal approval of the Polish government, but in so far as the Polish government has failed to take steps to bring him under control and to repudiate and correct his conduct, it is to blame. Korfanty may be an insurrectionist attempting a fait accompli for patriotic motives, but he has placed the government at Warsaw in an uncomfortable position, in which it will suffer heavily unless it has the courage to take a difficult course.

Mr. Lloyd George is somewhat bitter, in referring to the declaration of Korfanty that the Poles would die rather than surrender, when he reminds the Poles that if they had thought in that vein earlier, "when the battle for Polish freedom was being fought, there would have been fewer British, French and Italian lives lost." There is some truth in that. But it must be borne in mind that the Allies, Germany and the United States are partly responsible for the Polish filibuster in Upper Silesia.

When Foreign Minister Simon presented his counter proposals on reparations to the Allied governments in April, he declared that Germany could not live up to those counter terms if Upper Silesia was given to Poland. Germany repeated the same contention in the note to the United States in which this government was asked to assume the role of mediator. No Allied Government nor the United States told Germany that her attempt to trade with Upper Silesia was useless and futile.

The Poles assumed that the German plan might be seriously considered by the Allies; this notwithstanding that the recent plebiscite awarded Upper Silesia to Poland. With the favorable result of the plebiscite Poland became entitled to Upper Silesia by virtue of the treaty of Versailles and there was a natural and easily understood aversion to seeing the question of title tied to the reparations issue. So the Poles, fearing the Allies and knowing the covetousness of Germany, decided to occupy those districts that had voted to enter the Polish state.

Poland should not be made to suffer in order that Germany's burdens may be lightened. Mr. Lloyd George has joined in enforcing the Versailles treaty in favor of England, France and Belgium. He should not venture to ignore the treaty to the harm of the new republic of Poland. The latter country has acted in an exasperating manner, but the Allies are partly to blame. They should accept their share of responsibility.

Prof. John James Tigert of Kentucky has been named as United States commissioner of education to succeed Philander P. Claxton. The qualification of Prof. Tigert for this important post are a bit obscure at the present writing, but there is otherwise abundant cause to believe that an improvement in the federal bureau of education is impending.

In the prospective prize fight between Carpentier and Dempsey, the general public would not be disappointed if both parties got a sound thrashing, but there is a fairly large element who will think over the fact that Carpentier, the Frenchman, quit his business when his country was attacked by enemies and made an honorable record as a soldier.

An Idaho woman is suspected of having poisoned four husbands who carried insurance policies under which she was the beneficiary. Two small sons by one of the husbands also insured. Psychoanalysts unquestionably will find a gentle explanation of these murders for financial gain.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Hawaiian Assembly tried to be funny in its petition to Congress for latitude in the manufacture and sale of wine and beer, reciting the biblical story that wine was made from water, and repeating the wheeze about it making the heart of man glad; but the Territorial Senate saw at once the impropriety of that method of treatment and ran in a counter, which makes the document unique in the extreme.

Those who like to consider the jinx had another chance yesterday. It was Friday, the thirteenth. There are two classes in this category—those who are things that happen to prove it, and those who are over-indefatigable. The more considerable number of persons listen and read about it and let it go at that.

Level-headed men and women are more or less nonplussed by the sympathy manifest by females for criminals who get in focus in their reckonings. Chief of Police Vollmer says this mawkishness brings criminals to book. It is an unaccountable obsession, but the spectacle of women sending flowers and dainties to jailbirds, kissing and even marrying them to "reform" them, is too common.

The Stockton Record makes note of the "old soldiers." Were they down-hearted? Not much. Veterans of the '60's who could here and there, dance a jig when the parade came to rest may be expected to make good their promise to come back to Stockton in twenty years from now. All in all, it was a sunny-heated parade.

The general public may be tied up on the Hamon case but possibly there are those who take account of the news that for $10,000 the Smith woman has relinquished her "rights" to the estate of the man whom she murdered.

It is "recalling" to read in the quarter-century-ago notices about the Populist party holding their convention. The Populist party is one with Nineveh and Tyre—that is, under that name. Those who feel that way have had to rechristen themselves several times in twenty-five years.

A Berkeley woman fainted at the wheel of her automobile as she drove past the mouth of Fontaine the other day. We didn't think the old lady was quite that bad!—San Jose Mercury Herald.

One of the surprising, or at least encouraging, things is the cut in the price of gasoline. There have been so many discussions as to the possibility of consumption overtaking and passing production that an increase in price would not have greatly surprised. It would seem from this that the fear that new discoveries would not keep pace with the exhaustion of old fields is not borne out.

The spectacle of the attorney for the Anheuser-Busch corporation appearing before the Volstead committee and protesting the proposition to permit beer to be sold as a "medicinal" is one of the interesting prohibition developments. The Anheuser-Busch corporation has not been converted, but would enforce the rule, "Beer for all or beer for none."

The saying that "they all do it" has been in the news from Rome to the effect that the grave diggers of that historic city have struck for higher wages.

Literary item from the Medford Mail-Tribune: "All the poets in town were down to hear Ed Markham last night, and all left with the firm intention to put him out of business."

In Germany there are numerous cities ending in "dam," and even more conferences end that way.—Fresno Republican.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Some unconscious humorist distributed in San Bernardino a circular, equally distinctive for bad printing and bad grammar, exhorting workers, especially those engaged in the citrus industry, to join the Industrial Workers of the World. It is not clear whether these circulars were designed to lighten the gloom of the citrus growers, but they serve that purpose in their characteristically violent description of the "prosperity" of the growers and the "poverty" and "servitude" of the workers.—San Bernardino Telegram.

It is being printed that Frederick O'Brien, author of the "White Shadows in the South Seas," was once a reporter on the Marion Star. So how cures makes news! Nobody would care whether he was or not except that the editor of the then struggling newspaper has become President of the United States, and the then struggling young writer has become one of the most popular authors in the country.—Palo Alto Times.

Oakland's mayor has announced that a 10-story building to cost $6,500,000, is to be erected on the property of the Southern Pacific railroad at Thirteenth and Franklin streets for railroad terminal and other purposes. Recently the railroad commission ordered a union depot building erected in Los Angeles, which caused the Sacramento chamber of commerce has just issued a map to enlighten tourists on beauty spots in California. According to this map there is no road leading from Red Bluff to Eureka and none leading from Red Bluff to Mount Lassen.—Red Bluff News.

Gentlemen who sit in city offices and draw tourist maps should never venture into the country. They will get lost. The Sacramento chamber of commerce has just issued a map to enlighten tourists on beauty spots in California. According to this map there is no road leading from Red Bluff to Eureka and none leading from Red Bluff to Mount Lassen.—Red Bluff News.

"BY THE INTERNAL"

President Harding speaks to the officers of the first line of national defense.
"The United States of America does not want anything on earth that is not rightfully our own, no territory, no payment, no tribute. But we do want that which is rightfully our own, and, by the term, we mean to have it."
So long has it been since we have heard a presidential expletive that this old Jacksonian outburst strikes on the ear with redoubled force. For the moment, perhaps, we are shocked. The next, we smile, for the frank vigor of the expression smacks of that directness, scornful of the delicacies of diplomatic speech, which is characteristic of the American of deeds, not words.
And the next, we are very close to cheers.
The President voices for the nation a sentiment which has in it something of the Rooseveltian "Fear God and take your own part" and the Napoleonic "Providence is always on the side of the last reserve."
Harding does not seek, as Wilson did, to do perfect things in an imperfect world. He faces things as they are. He cannot be, he does not assume to be, counsel for all nations. He can be, he asserts himself to be, champion of that fearless and forward-going America which has made him his personal embodiment.
"I believe if all the governments on earth were impelled by the same motives as our own, this world would be at peace forever, starting from today," he says. "But I would not want peace without honor."
To that we may say, "Amen!"—Worcester Telegram.

About YOUR HEALTH

What Dr. Copeland Says
About the Smoking Question.

By HYOAD E. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

What are the facts about tobacco? Is it safe to use it?
I have certain convictions regarding this matter. The first is this: Tobacco is capable of producing positive harm to the immature and developing body. It has two powerful effects upon the heart and the nervous system to justify any other conclusion.

Therefore, tobacco—I assume we are discussing smoking alone—should never be used under the age of twenty.

Whether it be safely indulged in after twenty depends upon the individual and how it is used. Everyone knows that the danger of tobacco lies in the contained nicotine. There is said to be enough nicotine in one cigar to kill 100 rabbits.

Combustion decomposes nicotine and renders it harmless. Unless the combustion is complete this desirable end is not attained.

Let us apply this test to the various methods of smoking:
The pipe offers every facility for getting the tobacco. The saliva flows by gravity down the stem into the bowl. Countless matches are necessary to keep up fire in the soggy fuel. Needless to say, perfect combustion is impossible unless the pipe is kept clean and dry.

The last third of the cigar becomes soaked with the saliva. Naturally, it won't burn readily. Therefore, the "butt" of a cigar may be harmful, because its nicotine will not be burned away.

The cigarette is paper covered. Its very nature and make up are conducive to dryness, and of necessity the whole outfit burns readily. Especially if smoked in a holder to keep the saliva away from the tobacco, the cigarette is more likely to develop perfect combustion than is any other form of smoking material.

If pipe, cigar or cigarette were smoked on equal footing the cigarette would bear away the palm. But too many users of cigarettes inhale the smoke.

The moderate use of dry tobacco, so treated as to remain dry till the fire reaches it, and smoked without inhalation, will do little harm to healthy adults. It is such a deplorable habit and has such an effect upon the sympathetic nervous system, however, that certain vital functions are lowered if tobacco is habitually and excessively used in middle age. At this time of life one must choose between the greatest possible alertness and the pleasure and the joy and solace of the weed.

Lastly, it is to be remembered that tobacco smoke is a tangible and material thing. It is just as real a dust and just as irritating to the membranes of the head, throat and lungs.

WORKERS REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF CONTRACTORS

Union Men Ask If Announced
Wage Cut Will Be Rebated to Public.

Declaring that but fifteen per cent of the building in Alameda county is done through the Builders' Exchange and that the announced intention of the Exchange to put into effect on Monday a 7 1/2 per cent wage reduction will not affect the Building Trades Council one iota, S. J. Donohue, its business agent, today issued the following statement in reply to that of the builders. The union men, says Donohue, will not accept the wage reduction.

Donohue says that the reason the unions have not heeded the findings of the recent arbitration board is that the board did not have the question of wage reduction before it and asks the Exchange if it is willing to give to builders a rebate in consideration of a fall in costs.

STATEMENT ISSUED.

Donohue's statement follows: "According to a statement published in the daily press and attributed to E. C. Craft, first vice president of the Builders' Exchange of Alameda County, a lockout of all building trade mechanics and laborers has been ordered to take effect on next Monday, May 16.

"In his statement Craft asserts that a reduction of 7 1/2 per cent will be made in the wages of all building craftsmen. He declares that the Builders' Exchange is incensed, because the Building Trades Council refuses to accept the decision of an arbitration board that had certain things to consider. That is whether the wages of the workers in fifteen different crafts should remain stationary or be increased.

"The arbitration board, going outside the question altogether, rendered a decision that wages in these crafts should be reduced.

NOT BEFORE BOARD.

"The question of reduction was not before the board. Therefore, the Building Trades Council very properly refused to accept the decision.

"And now comes Craft with a statement declaring that the Builders' Exchange will cut the wages of all mechanics and laborers 7 1/2 per cent, as a punishment, because the Building Trades Council will not surrender its rights and refuses to accept the uncalculated and altogether unwarranted decision.

"The Builders' Exchange has taken to itself, if Craft speaks for that organization, a vast amount of importance. Doing less than 15 per cent of the building in this county, the Builders' Exchange assumes a great deal when it dares to speak for the contractors and employers of Alameda county.

TO CONTINUE PROTEST.

"Craft's statement will not affect the position of the Building Trades Council and its affiliated unions and members one iota.

"On the other hand, the Building Trades Council will continue to protect to the utmost all its members in their full rights. And the council will protect the interests of the public as well.

"No wage cut will be accepted. That is flat.

"Going farther into the declaration issued by Craft, we will say that if the Builders' Exchange were honest, and if it really believed that it could force such a cut in wages, as announced, its members should pay back the same percentage of all contract prices to the owners.

REBATES ARE ASKED.

"In all instances where wages have been raised, the Building Trades Council has given to the contractors

Woman Declares She Ate 250 Fat Chickens in Week

WHEN Mrs. Annie L. Johnson said she had eaten 250 prize Plymouth Rock chickens worth $650 in a week, Superior Judge Koford refused to grant her alimony pending her divorce hearing today.

Mrs. Johnson some time ago filed suit against Charles J. Johnson, Byron rancher, for divorce, alleging that he failed to provide for her. Her husband in turn says that when he went to his ranch he found the 250 chickens gone. The wife countered by declaring that as she had nothing else to eat, she had consumed the Plymouth Rocks.

Judge Koford, while not posing as an expert on chicken consumption, declared that he did not believe one person could consume 250 chickens in seven days. Johnson charged that his wife sold the fowls and nept the proceeds. So the judge denied alimony pendente lite.

The case will be tried June 7.

CITIES TO HEAR PLANS TO FILE ON POWER SITES

The League of California Municipalities has invited Mayor David and Assistant City Attorney Leon Gray to Sacramento Friday, where the question of water power rights for cities will be discussed.

The meeting will discuss the water power bill passed by congress. This bill gives a city preference for one year in filing on government land. As most streams go through government land, especially on the western slopes of the Sierras, it has been argued that it is to the benefit of the cities to go after these rights rather than let them lapse and allow private utilities to get them.

Los Angeles has been foremost in securing all rights under the law. San Francisco has also taken action in some instances, but these are the only two California cities which seem to have done anything.

Oakland enjoys no water rights of the sort. Looking toward the future, it is argued that Oakland as well as many other Central California cities, should acquire all she can so that there may always be a possible solution for any future water shortage. It is a question as to how far a field Oakland would care to go in acquiring rights over lands.

The League of Municipalities is considering a bill on the subject which would make acquisition of such water rights easier.

The fullest protection on all work in hand, doing such work at the rate of the building in this county, the Builders' Exchange assumes a great deal when it dares to speak for the contractors and employers of Alameda county.

TO CONTINUE PROTEST.

"Craft's statement will not affect the position of the Building Trades Council and its affiliated unions and members one iota.

MAY PAGEANT OF SENIOR CLASS AT MILLS IS STAGED

"The Wine of Life," Written by Oakland Girl, Given on Shores of Lake.

On the shores of Lake Aliso on the Mills College campus, 125 young college women yesterday afternoon rolled back the centuries to revive in dance and song, one of the classic tales of ancient Greece. "The Wine of Life," the 1921 senior May pageant written by Miss Katherine Spring of Oakland, was the vehicle chosen in competition to carry on the college tradition.

Fringed with tall eucalypti, shadowed in the still waters set about with shrub and flowering bushes, bird notes mingling with the reeds and wind instruments of the music, green, the stage was provided by the lavish hand of Nature itself.

On one shore the college women enacted the story of Dionysius and those who surrounded him in the ancient mythology. Across the lake on the farther shore, scores of friends of the college, the seniors, the students and those who were drawn by their interest in the beauty of the scene or dance, viewed the unfolding of the pageant.

BRILLIANT COLORING.

Brilliant coloring featured the flowing, filmy robes of the dancers who in pantomime carried the theme of the exquisite spring production. In groups and solo numbers, bands of girls, swayed and sported on the greenward, as the story progressed from the time when the son of Pire and Dew was born until the formal drama was perfected. Nature worship, conventionalistic music had a prominent role in the pageant, college musicians supplementing the accompaniment of the orchestra.

The annual May fete at Mills College is managed by the senior women who claim the co-operation of their fellow students. Miss Elizabeth Rhem Stoner, head of the physical education department, is responsible for the production.

EXERCISES MONDAY.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Lister hall by Rev. Kenneth Saunders, professor of comparative religions in the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley. His subject will be "The Utopia of the Spirit."

Commencement exercises will take place on Monday morning with Dr. Richard Frederick Scholz, president of Reed College, Portland, Ore., the principal speaker. This is the first public address which Dr. Scholz has made since taking over the presidency of the northern college. Formerly he was connected with the history department in the University of California.

Movie Censorship Law for N. Y. Signed

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—Governor Miller today signed the Lusk-Motion Picture Censorship bill. The law creates a motion picture commission of three members. The commission may refuse to license any films that are obscene, indecent, immoral, intemperate, or of such a character that their exhibition would tend to corrupt morals or incite to crime.

The commission's decisions are applicable to review by the courts.

SALVATION BY SUGGESTION.

ALAMEDA, May 14.—The Rev. Charles P. Clarke of Fruitvale will occupy the pulpit of the First Congregational church tomorrow morning. His subject will be "Salvation by Suggestion." In the evening the pastor, the Rev. C. C. Wilson, will speak upon "Losing the Bible to Find It Again." Special music by the vested choir will be presented at both services.

ARCADe PLANNED FROM BROADWAY TO SAN PABLO

Kahn Brothers Lease 20-Foot
Strip South of Store for 99 Years.

now there. This last addition, together with the improvement of the corner at Sixteenth and Broadway, recently taken under lease from E. A. Bushel, would add another block to the city's main thoroughfare.

In addition to the giving of the additional window space, the rearrangement of departments will gain 4000 square feet of selling space on the main floor.

GREAT ESTABLISHMENT IS REWARD OF ENTERPRISE.

Kahn Bros. are just completing their forty-second year of business in this city. Established in 1879, occupying at that time but a small store room, it has grown until in 1913 it erected the building now occupying the corner of Broadway and Sixteenth street, this giving them the largest mercantile building in the city of Oakland, and at that time seemed ample to answer their needs and needs of the community for many years to come.

The fact that within the period of less than eight years they have been compelled to secure additional space is an indication not only of the growth of their business, but the growth of the community.

While this improvement is being made primarily for the benefit of their own business, they are rendering service to the community in their cutting through a pedestrian thoroughfare which will be open to all, and will benefit all property and business north of Fourteenth street.

Eight years ago Washington street was opened from Fourteenth street to San Pablo avenue. The opening of the Kahn arcade is the most important step in the rearrangement of traffic that has taken place since that date.

PRaise IS EXTENDED BY PUBLIC MEN.

Along the expressions today from city officials, officers of various civic organizations and others who have been quick to see the significance of the arcade plans were the following:

MARSTON CAMPBELL, Engineer School Department.—I regard the plans of Kahn Brothers, in a measure, as a gift to the city of Oakland. It is a wonderful undertaking and will prove of decided benefit to all of the citizens. It was only a question when a street would have

REDUCED PRICES FOR OIL PROMISES NEW RATE FIGHT

Suspended Increase in Gas
Cost Will Be Fought, Says
City Attorney.

The announcement of a lowered price on oil by the big oil companies means a battle to readjust the rates on many public utilities, according to Assistant City Attorney Leon Gray, who yesterday wrote the Railroad Commission that, inasmuch as the rates on oil are lowered, the delayed increase in gas rates is unnecessary.

Gray believes the surcharge on gas will come off, and other utilities will fall in line.

"In about a week we will know what to do," he says. "There is little secret about it. Prices of materials are coming down. The higher rates were based on high material and labor costs. Lower public utility rates are in sight."

Gray took action as soon as the notice was printed yesterday that the Standard Oil Company had lowered rates on oil.

In the fall of last year the Pacific Gas & Electric Company filed an application to increase gas rates. The case was submitted. This April the Railroad Commission granted an increase of 3 cents per 1000 cubic feet, meaning about $1.13 to the average householder.

The city of Oakland applied for a rehearing. The Railroad Commission suspended operation of the rate pending a rehearing. No decision has been reached. Gray now thinks that the oil rate must stand.

"One of the reasons cited for the increase," says Gray, "was the cost of oil, which had increased hugely. Now that oil has gone down the rate should not be increased."

Dispensary Issues Appeal for Funds

BERKELEY, May 14.—A new appeal for funds for vacations for under-nourished children was made today by the directors of the Berkeley Dispensary.

An offer has been received by the Dispensary whereby any sum up to $50 will be duplicated. Eighty dollars, it is pointed out, will provide vacation outings and wholesome food for four youngsters for four weeks. The children for whom vacations are planned are those who need fresh air and wholesome food.

The monthly report of the Dispensary shows 542 individuals received treatment at the dispensary at Sixth street and University avenue. Treatment was either free or afforded for a nominal sum.

Bee Swarm Decamps As Expert Arrives

BERKELEY, May 14.—Bees may be all right in their place, but Mrs. Victor Barndt objects to having them busily ply their honey-making in the gardens of her home, 139 Tunnel road.

Patrolman Bert Fraser found the bees, hundreds of them, and he found also Barndt's children seeking refuge in the house, afraid of the tiny visitors.

C. A. Muller, Berkeley, bee expert, was called to cather in the refractory swarm, but just as Muller arrived on the scene the bees decamped.

Governor to Address Civic League Dinner

The dinner is one of a series being given by the two organizations to encourage discussion of important problems. Professor W. S. Morgan, president of the City Club, will preside.

Take 3 tablespoons Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate, 3 tablespoons sifted powdered sugar, 3 large eggs, Beat yolks and whites separately; add sugar to yolks, beat 10 minutes, add chocolate; mix thoroughly, fold in beaten whites; bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Use shallow square pan, lightly buttered; cut off edges, roll over folded napkin so firmly-roll. Beat 4 pint pastry cream, sweetened to taste. When roll is cold, fill with cream. Cut in slices; chocolate sauce may be added if desired.

What makes Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate work so "smoothly" in the oven? The same uniform richness that makes it so "smooth" in the cup. It's this flavor, this just-so richness, that makes Ghirardelli's the preferred chocolate for baking and dessert-making. Yes—and the most convenient chocolate, too! For Ghirardelli's is perfectly ground, ready to use as it comes from the can. You just "dip in"—no bother, no grating!

Ask your grocer for Ghirardelli's and write for our new book of recipes—it's free!

to be put through the block, but for a local firm to assume the responsibility and the expense is not only unusual but decidedly generous. I believe, however, that it will prove a good business move.

JOE KING, President of the Chamber of Commerce.—This is an instance of an Oakland firm realizing a public need and meeting it. For a long time it has been apparent that there should be some way discovered to avoid the long detours forced on persons walking from Broadway to San Pablo at Fifteenth street. Many have found a solution by walking through the Kahn store. With a fifteen-foot arcade the whole district will be improved and thousands of citizens will have been rendered a service. It was a big thing to do.

RIG GAIN FOR BUSINESS DISTRICT.

GEORGE SHELDON, Manager Uproven Association.—This is the greatest boon to the Fifteenth street district that I can think of. For a long time Fifteenth street has been a blot on the city. It is a blot on San Pablo from Franklin to San Pablo has been attended by danger and inconvenience. The arcade will be a tremendous aid to traffic and will benefit the section of the city as a shopping center.

NEW ARTERY OF TRAFFIC AFFORDED.

JOHN L. DAVID, Mayor.—An artery of traffic at this point has long been needed and I predict that the way in which the Kahn arcade will be used will prove the foresightedness of those who are to make it possible. The city is benefited by this place of public-spirited enterprise and, no doubt, benefits will come to the builders.

AUTO HITS BICYCLISTS.

ALAMEDA, May 14.—Miss Ruth Hartzell, city health nurse, struck the bicycle of Charles Carver, 2730 Harrison street, with her auto as she turned the corner of Pearl street and Lincoln avenue, last night. The boy, and Gail Valentine, who was riding with him, were thrown to the ground. His foot was slightly injured and Miss Hartzell proceeded to administer first aid. The boys were able to proceed home on their bicycle.

U. C. Players to Give "Romeo and Juliet"

EGG THROWER SOUGHT.

ALAMEDA, May 14.—A Heche, principal of the Porter school, reported to the police last night that while a group of teachers and children were standing near the building a man by the name of Sidney Whipple passed and threw a number of eggs at them. One of these struck the brick wall and plentifully splattered its contents over the crowd. Chief Whammuth has ordered an investigation.

Statistics compiled by the Industrial Court show that output in that state has increased one-half since January. Upward tendencies in the market have resulted in the opening of a number of mines in Kansas and Oklahoma fields.

On the whole, business is going forward again. The latest bank call shows that City banks better off than in the period last year. There is a decrease in deposits with a gain in loans. The year ended against $44,000,000 a decrease of $14,000,000 in 1919.

CLEVELAND, O., May 10.—The Cleveland office of business has been unusually busy this week with the banks in the city assisting in the re-employment of the unemployed. The banks have been in agreement that they have been in the past the best of the city, and they will continue to be so. The banks have been in the past the best of the city, and they will continue to be so. The banks have been in the past the best of the city, and they will continue to be so.

Textile plants reported 825 employees during the first three months of the year, but the number of plants dealing in food, lumber, and other products has increased.

The White Motor Company has resumed operations on a normal basis after having operated at a reduced level for a week since the strike.

Announcement that the Motor Company had finished inventory which consisted of 1100 cars in the Toledo plant, Jordan said, indicated that the workers off all its high wages are significant signs of the end of the readjustment being reached.

At the same time, the building of a new building by printers has tied up job openings in that industry. Among other jobs that of the Federal Reserve building.

Investigates, compiled in turning, construction and city companies throughout the Federal district show that employees has decreased 10 percent and the production as of April 1 this year.

Eastbay Missionary Returns to Near East as Relief Worker

MRS. R. S. EMRICH, Oakland woman and her three children, Wallace, Duncan and Richard, who sailed yesterday from New York on the Italian liner Patria to take up the work ended by the death of her husband in Aleppo, Greece.

Mrs. R. S. Emrich, After Stay in Berkeley, Sails for Overseas Duty in Aid of Armenians

To carry out the work in which her husband gave his life, Mrs. R. S. Emrich, known as a missionary in Oakland and Berkeley, sailed yesterday from New York on the Italian liner Patria for service overseas with the Near East Relief. She was accompanied by her three sons, Wallace, 9, Richard, 11, and Duncan, 13. Prior to the war Dr. and Mrs. Emrich had served for six years as missionaries in Mesopotamia. In 1915, due to the stringent regulations placed on foreigners, Mrs. Emrich returned home and was followed by her husband following the signing of the armistice, and together they organized the Near East Relief in Northern California when tales of the suffering of the Armenians and other Christian races were received there.

Mrs. Emrich returned to the Near East as a missionary worker in 1919 and a short time later, April 29, lost his life. Mrs. Emrich spoke several times during her stay in Berkeley to commercial, fraternal and patriotic organizations in the interest of the Near East Relief. She is considered an authority on Turkish laws and religion. Mrs. Emrich is the sister of Mrs. W. E. Leland, 1406 Euclid avenue, Berkeley. She was in Mesopotamia in 1914-15, when the Turks massacred Armenians and Syrians. While in Berkeley Dr. and Mrs. Emrich lived at 1464 LeRoy avenue. Four other workers accompanied Mrs. Emrich to the Near East. They were Miss Anna A. Gray, New York; Clarence F. Rowland, Buffalo, N. Y.; and Miss Doris L. Goets of Milwaukee, Wis. The former Eastbay woman declared she would stay until conditions existing in the southern European countries had been alleviated.

Battling Tongs Sign
Peace Pact in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Peace between the Hop Sing and the Sing Kong tongs now reigns, putting an end to the hostilities between the two organizations begun last November which cost each faction the lives of a dozen or more men. Officials of the two bodies signed a peace pact at a meeting late last night. War still exists between the Jung Ying and the Suey Dong tongs, however. Reports of the killing of two Chinese, and the probable fatal wounding of another at Mexican, in Lower California, Thursday night, have been received here. This fight is thought to have been between the two warring factions.

The new trial will be held on May 18.

Former Senator R. E. Grant, president of the State Law Enforcement League and author of the Redlight Abatement act, will address an open meeting of the Church Women's League, to be held in the First Congregational church, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

POLITICAL BODYGood Government Organization Lays Plans to Continue Activities.

Preliminary steps were taken yesterday at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, presided over by Leroy Goodrich, to make a permanent organization of the Good Government League. The luncheon was attended by several hundred professional and business men, as well as by a score of women who were active in the league's recent campaign to elect Colburn and Carter to commission-erships No 1 and 2, respectively.

According to Goodrich the Good Government League is responsible for the election of Colburn and Carter. "The handful of citizens backing the league," said Goodrich, "feel that it should continue work on a permanent basis and prepare for the election two years hence."

Enrollment cards were passed around and collected again at the door. More than 300 signed the pledge to themselves to membership in the league at $10 per year.

According to J. C. Ewing, treasurer of the league, there is a $5000 deficit from the recent campaign. He stated that it is hoped to meet this deficit and to increase the funds for the coming campaign.

The winning candidates for the commissionerships, Colburn and Carter, made their first public appearance since the night before election. Both stated they had promised no one anything and were free to appoint or to sponsor the appointment of the best man for the place in whatever department it might be. Among those who spoke were Joe King, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Leroy Goodrich and Cal Ewing of the Good Government League; Larry Moore, Max Horvinski, V. O. Lawrence and Fred B. Melmann.

Druggist Foils Attempt
To Rob Store by Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—A daring attempted holdup of the drugstore of Glenn M. Nelson, 701 Geary street, in the busiest section of the apartment house district, was frustrated by the proprietor today when he gave battle to two bandits and succeeded in putting them to flight.

Nelson was alone in his establishment, which is at the corner of Leavenworth street, with cars passing at intervals of less than a minute, and scores of pedestrians passing. Two young men who had left a touring car with engine running at the curb, entered. One of them held a pistol and they ordered Nelson into the prescription department at the rear. He ran in advance of them and as they followed to the door, struggled with them for the possession of the gun, at the same time crying for help at the top of his voice.

The robbers became unnerved by the encounter and evidently fearing interruption ran from the place, with Nelson in pursuit. One of them jumped into the waiting machine, dropping his pistol in his flight. The car was pointed down hill and he sped away in it. The second man ran and Nelson was unable to determine whether or not he was picked up by his companion later. There was a considerable sum of money in the cash register, but the bandits got nothing for their trouble.

Yale to Resume Trips
Trips to Southland

Resumption of sailings by the coast liner Yale which recently returned to the San Francisco Bay-San Pedro run after several years absence in war service, is announced by her owners. The Yale has been tied up by the marine strike, but arrangements have been made for a crew. The Yale will leave San Pedro Monday and will sail from San Francisco on Tuesday and Friday of each week until her sister ship, the Harvard, is put in service.

By arrangement he will examine several of the members of the club. Barry Wann, chairman of the day, will preside. S. E. Biddle will deliver the boost talk. APRIL MARRIAGE
LICENSES FEWER THAN YEAR AGO

Figures for the month of April this year show it fell short of April, 1920, in the number of marriage licenses by 24, and that it was but little better than the showing made in 1919, according to Stewart Gemmell of the county clerk's office.

That more people are getting married, however, considering the entire year, than ever before, is indicated by the fact that in 1920 there were some 600 more licenses issued than in 1919. The figures for 1920 show 4403 couples granted permission to wed, while there were only 3855 in 1919, 3129 in 1918, 3612 in 1917, and 2784 in 1916.

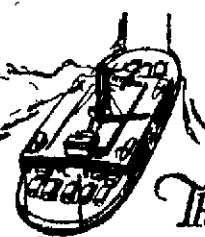

A survey of the five years from 1916 to 1920, inclusive, shows that June is the most popular month with the lovers, and December next.
